WELCOME TO NORDIC EDGE EXPO

Nordic Edge Expo is one of Europe's most important arenas for everyone engaged in technological solutions that will make cities, communities, companies and homes smarter.

Nordic Edge Expo is the main Smart City meeting place in the Nordics. In September 2017 you can expect to meet more than 70 top-class speakers and over 200 exhibitors from all over the world.

Nordic Edge Expo covers a broad range of smart city themes and showcases both best practices and solutions addressing the urban challenges that most cities and communities are facing.

At Nordic Edge Expo you will meet a captive audience and decision makers from cities and municipalities, smart technology providers, change-making companies, startups, forward-thinking universities and dynamic organisations.

The event organiser Nordic Edge is a non-profit company working to create smart city business opportunities in the Nordic region.

THE CONFERENCE

By bringing together the best thinkers and the best doers, Nordic Edge Expo is a not-to-be-missed destination for inspiration, insights and action. Over the course of three days, we present a conference with top-class speakers from the Nordics, the rest of Europe, USA and Asia. We cover a broad array of smart city themes, including infrastructure, mobility, energy/renewables, e-health and care, governance, educational technology and smart art. Smart City Expo is where the public sector joins forces with the private sector in order to discuss better solutions for smarter cities and communities.

In addition to the main conference programme, Nordic Edge Expo will also organise a number of Centre Court sessions. The Centre Court is a smaller conference arena in the middle of the exhibition venue. This intimate stage offers short, interesting talks with an emphasis on the following themes:

- Introduction to Smart Technology
- Smart City startups
- Smart Products & Services
- Public Sector Projects

THE STAVANGER REGION

The energy capital of Europe

The Stavanger region is Norway's third largest region with 340,000 inhabitants. The region is regarded as one of the most innovative regions in Norway. For the last forty years Stavanger has been the center for developing Norway as an oil and energy nation. As Europe's oil and gas capital, Stavanger now houses all major international operators, and around 300 oil service companies. Currently a lot of the players in the industry are turning their attention to the enormous potential and opportunities of the renewable energy sector and we see an increased emphasis on greener technology.

...and the gateway to the fjords

Stavanger is - apart from being one of Norway's cosiest cities - also the gateway to some of the most incredible scenic nature in Norway. A short journey out of the city will take you to the world-famous tourist brochure sights such as Preikestolen (Pulpit Rock), Kjeragbolten and to the many stunning fjords in the area. Must-see attractions when you join us for Nordic Edge Expo 2017!
